R&D of IT sector in 2 year

> The graph shows IT revenue in Year 2. We can see it skewed to the right or positively skewed. Which indicates that this means above average. Also, the industry average revenue equals $ 15.391.407.779.66 million. The median equals $ 4,669,100,000.00 million. We're generating range value revenue of $ 181,829.913,000.00 million, the standard deviation for all business technology companies in the year is $ 29,779,157,630.20, indicating a wider spread across the dataset. It may also mean that technology companies have variances in research and development expenditures. Spending is over $ 886 billion, and more than 50% of IT companies spend more than $ 4.669 million on research and development expenditures.